

Dear friends,

As we move from the gentleness of Ordinary time, we've seen physically the changing of the seasons- just a few weeks ago we struggled to keep cool in searing heat and now we hover over the thermostat, wondering if an extra blanket or jumper is a better option than turning the heating on.

Throughout this year we've seen unrest and felt unsettled, thinking we were moving on from the pandemic into something which more closely resembled our lives before. For many, life will be much the same but for others there are tough choices to make, and I hope as a community we can work at ways to support those we live amongst for whom the tightening of finances will be a real concern.

I hope it gives you hope to know that through the turmoil of the times each generation lives through some things are unchanging. Sometimes the constant and reliable rhythm of the church year is a helpful reminder that there are some anchor points in this life to hold on to. With the turning of the season, we enter one of the busiest periods in the church year, with each weekend bringing something different, even before we reach the Churches New Year on Advent Sunday.

This year, whilst we know Covid is still around, we feel more able to open our doors and return to some of the celebrations that have been missing from our calendars since 2019. We also feel it's a time to experiment and grow with our new inter-generational Orchard service, the return of midweek pre-school age worship, and of course having Caroline here to inspire our thinking is a true blessing.

The constancy of the church year is a helpful reminder of God's constancy. Whilst the troubles of the world are very real, our hope and faith in our unchanging creator hopefully sustains us, and as we gather as a community for worship, fellowship or service it's a reminder of the hope we have in one another.

With love, thankfulness and blessings,

Fi

An introduction from Revd Caroline Bailey

I'm delighted to be with you in Flixton. I am training as a self-supporting minister so I also work as a teacher of English at Xaverian Sixth Form College. I feel like the two roles have a lot in common in interpreting stories and texts and being with and supporting people. I'm also interested in spirituality and social justice and love to support people in their journeys of faith in whatever way I can.

I was brought up as a Baptist in Rotherham but moved into the Church of England when I was 19 as my brother was a priest and he introduced me to the liturgy and traditions of the Anglican Church where I found a home.

I studied English and Philosophy at the University of East Anglia in Norwich many years ago and then came to Manchester to do a teaching qualification where I met my husband Karl who has a woodworking business. We lived in Italy for a year when we were first together and this has given us a lot of inspiration.

We have two children Ethan (17) and Frances (16). Frances is a very good student and wants to be a vet. Ethan lives in residential care as he has complex needs - this has been a big part of my spiritual journey and I'm always happy to talk about disability and theology and how our images of God can be challenged by disability and how we can make the church more accessible for people with disabilities.

I'm interested in using Art in thinking about faith and God and how we can encourage young people to experience church and faith. In my spare time I like films and reading and I like wild swimming too or any combination of the above! We have two cockapoos called Alfie and Oscar so I do love a Pet Blessing service!

I look forward to getting to know you all and sharing some of my passions and yours and journeying together in faith.

Sunday School is back. Parents and children are all welcome to attend starting at 10 a.m. in Church Croft, during term time only. Please note, it will not take place on the first Sunday of the month due to the Orchard intergenerational service taking place.

It is an hour's worth of learning and activities which are linked to the services and readings taking place during the main Parish Communion service in Church. Each session lasts for approximately 60 minutes, and the children are brought back into the church building for the end of the service. The parents/guardians of younger children are welcome to stay with their children for the first few weeks of their attendance or until they are settled.

Our Sunday School teachers plan and deliver the lessons each week. They are DBS checked by the Diocese of Manchester. If you are interested in volunteering please speak to a member of the Sunday School team.
